

The Australian government provides not-for-profit organisations with generous tax concessions to attract and retain a valuable workforce.

Organisations included in this generous entitlement are:

- Public Benevolent Institutions
- Health Promotion Charities and
- Public Hospitals

One of the concessions for these organisations is exemption from Fringe Benefits Tax up to the following capped thresholds:

- Public Benevolent Institutions and Health Promotion Charities ($30,000 grossed up)
- Public Hospitals and Ambulance Services ($17,000)

What does this mean to you when applying for a role in the not-for-profit industry?

It simply means, that a portion of your annual gross salary can be salary sacrificed to reduce your overall taxable amount and increase your take home pay.

You can't buy piece of mind

HECS and Australian Government Payments (e.g. CSA) can often feel like a barrier to Salary Packaging, we help you to understand, calculate and simplify these barriers. Just as you would go to a surgeon for an operation, you come to Eziway for Salary Packaging. We have comprehensive tools, forms, and calculators available which we use to provide you with piece of mind.

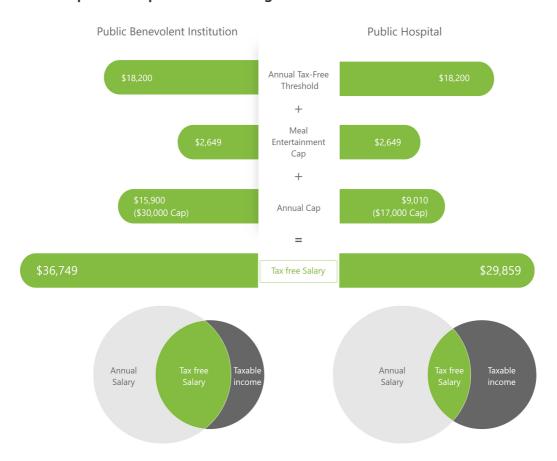

Not For Profit Salaries vs Private Sector Salaries

At first glance, your $50,000 private sector salary may seem loaded with benefits, however it's important you understand your gross salary equivalent when considering a role in the Not-for-Profit industry.

Here are some examples of the potential tax saving structures:

Disclaimers:

The information contained above on electronic and printed collateral is for information purposes only. Whenever you are making decisions that affect your income and financial affairs, you should consider seeking independent financial advice | E. & O. E. | Copyright 2024 Eziway Salary Packaging |

